

Gilby's work shows spirit

LIFE-size sculptures by artist Simon Gilby will be on display at Central Tafe from Saturday.

Gilby explores the human condition through an installation of 10 life-size figures fabricated from steel, pewter, bronze and stone.

The 10 stand-alone but interrelated characters are ornate and theatrical and evoke a sense of mystery about their individual natures.

This exhibition entitled The Syndicate displays Gilby's fascination with the human form, as well as his interest in contemporary monuments. The works provoke questions about approaches to figurative sculpture and display Gilby's considerable skills over a range of traditional and contemporary techniques and material.

The Syndicate opens on October 17 and runs until November 14, the artist will be available to talk about the works on October 22 and 24. For more details
